

2024 South Central American Society of Biomechanics Conference April 12th and 13th, 2024 Exhibitor/Sponsorship Packet

What is the South Central Biomechanics Conference?

The South Central Biomechanics Conference is a regional meeting associated with the parent organization of American Society of Biomechanics. The goal of this conference is to provide a student-centered meeting where the growing field of biomechanics and many other subfields are explored through poster and podium sessions as well as a keynote speaker. The target demographic includes students, faculty, and clinicians from states such as Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Nebraska.

Who attends the conference?

The conference attendance for 2023 was approximately 167 attendees and consisted of students, investigators, academics, and clinicians. In 2024, we are very excited to host our conference in-person and are aiming for attendance of around 200 individuals.
